

THE ROLE OF THE INTERNET IN MY LIFE

Globalization has brought us many advances and today it is hard to imagine life without the internet. It has become part of our everyday. I don't know anyone who doesn't use internet. Internet makes our lives easier. It is easy, cheap and economic. On the internet you can find almost all information. Only in a few second you can visit Moscow, Ljubljana, Japan, and America...

Also myself I use internet a lot. I use it for a several activity:

- ❖ Chatting with my friends on the MSN or GOOGLE TALK
- ❖ Visiting websites of bands which I like
- ❖ Searching for the school (homework, researching projects...)
- ❖ Mailing my homework to the teacher
- ❖ Sending emails with funny contents
- ❖ Downloading music and films
- ❖ Calling my friends with the Skype phone
- ❖ Buying new things on the internet
- ❖ Using self-learning websites

There are also other things which I am doing on the internet. Usually I am working with the internet around two hours per day. At the weekends I spend almost all the evenings on the internet chatting with my friends.

Around 2 years ago I had been on the internet almost all the weekend long and using of the internet had become my night mare actually night mare of my parents.

Now I use internet when I needed it.

I think that internet is an advantage of our civilization but I am scared that in the future (also nowadays) we won't be able to live without it.
