Personal quotes

‘Up until I was 12 my sisters used to dress me as a girl and introduce me as ‘Claudia’!’

“The day before [the Harry Potter London premiere] I was just sitting in Leicester Square, happily being ignored by everyone. Then suddenly strangers are screaming your name. Amazing.”

“Sometimes I think, 'to hell with acting,' and then I realize I could be working at a shoe shop. Acting is much cooler.”

- “My favorite teacher was probably my English teacher because she got me into writing instead of just answering the question. I used to hand in homework with 20 pages of nonsense and she'd still mark it. She was a really amazing teacher.”

My dad and I were in a restaurant one day and noticed group of pretty girls. The girls said they'd been to the local acting school. I never did any acting at school - I was quite shy - but after that day my dad nagged me about attending. He said he'd pay me, which is pretty strange, but I went.

Kristen: “..my cat
I love him and I would die if I had to live without him.”

Rob: “Cats die.
You only have a few years left, cats don't even live very long.”
laughs

I feel like I'm digging
a hole for myself.

I do that in every interview, it's fine.
